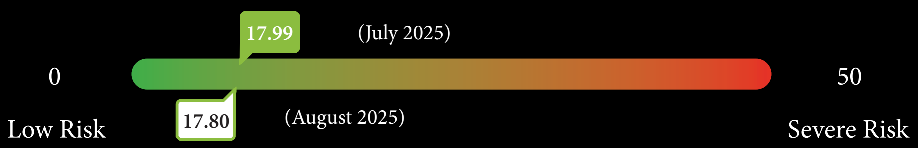
Portfolio Sustainability Ratings - Scores calculated independently by Morningstar

The Morningstar Sustainability Rating and score is a monthly measure of how well the companies in the fund portfolio are managing their environmental, social, and governance, or ESG, risks and opportunities relative to their Morningstar Category peers.

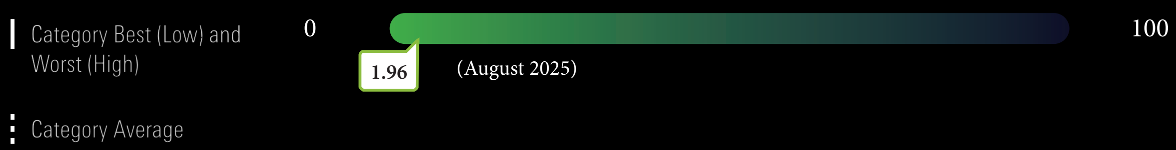
Sustainability Rating

Corporate Sustainability Score



Carbon Metrics (lower scores = lower carbon involvement)

Portfolio Carbon Risk Score



Carbon metrics as of 30 September 2025 | Category: Equity Region World as of 30 September 2025 | Based on 85% of AUM for Carbon Risk Score.

The Morningstar Portfolio Carbon Risk Score measures the risk that companies in a portfolio face from the transition to a low-carbon economy. The designation is an indicator that the companies held in a portfolio are in general alignment with the transition to a low-carbon economy.

MORNINGSTAR

Sustainability Analysis - Morningstar Manager Research

Published as of 30 June 2025

This strategy holds securities with low exposure to ESG risk relative to those of its peers in the Morningstar Global Equity Mid/Small Cap category, earning it the highest Morningstar Sustainability Rating of 5 globes. ESG risk measures the degree to which material environmental, social, and governance issues, such as climate change, biodiversity, human capital, as well as bribery and corruption, could affect valuations. ESG risk differs from impact, which is about driving positive environmental and social outcomes for society's benefit.

One key area of strength for Elevation Capital Global Shares Fund is its low Morningstar Portfolio Carbon Risk Score of 1.72 and very low fossil fuel exposure over the past 12 months, which earns it the Morningstar Low Carbon Designation. Thus, the companies held in the portfolio are in general alignment with the transition to a low-carbon economy.

One potential issue for a sustainability-focused investor is that Elevation Capital Global Shares Fund doesn't have an ESG-focused mandate. Funds with an ESG-focused mandate are more likely to align with the expectations of an investor who cares about sustainability issues.

The fund exhibits moderate exposure (5.84%) to companies with high or severe controversies. Controversies are incidents that have a negative impact on stakeholders or the environment, which create some degree of financial risk for the company. Examples of types of controversies include bribery and corruption scandals, workplace discrimination and environmental incidents. Severe and high controversies can have significant financial repercussions, ranging from legal penalties to consumer boycotts. Such controversies can also damage the reputation of both companies themselves and their shareholders.

Fund Long-Term Gross and Net Returns (NZD)

For comparative purposes we have two informational benchmarks we consider relevant to underlying (and prospective) investors in the Global Shares Fund. These are NZ CPI + 5% per annum (Gross Return) which we believe highlights to investors whether we are preserving and growing their real purchasing power overtime and the Eurekahedge Long-Only Absolute Return Fund All Regions Index (Net of Fees) which is used as a comparison in the Quarterly Fund Update which is available on the Disclose Register (www.disclose-register.companiesoffice.govt.nz) and our website (www.globalsharesfund.com/reports).

It is important to note that our portfolio does not track or follow any index, and we consistently operate with conservative cash levels. We would also highlight that these two informational benchmarks are not provided for performance fee calculations as there are no performance fees charged or payable within/by the Fund.

* Total Expense Ratio Definition: Total Expense Ratio (TER) expresses the expense ratio for a fund or unit of a fund against the average NAV (of the fund or unit respectively) over a given period in the past. The TER should reflect the past record, and should not be an estimate for the present or future. In other words, the TER is the annual percentage reduction in investor returns that would result from operating costs if markets were to remain flat and the fund's portfolio were to be held and not traded during a period.

Independent Thinking - Common Sense Investing

INDEPENDENT THINKING

Independent thinking is essential to long-term investment success. We are often contrarian and do not pay attention to index compositions when making investment decisions. We believe that when you're several thousand miles away from Wall Street in a different nation, it's easier to be independent and buy the things that other people are selling, and sell the things that other people are buying.

COMMON SENSE INVESTING

Common sense investing means we invest in companies, not stocks, and we invest in those that are simple and easy to understand—companies that don't take any great leap of faith to know they're going to keep doing what they're doing. Common Sense is simply not that common in financial markets when one steps back from the crowd.
